

Write or tell a story about someone or something you love, just like Lisa Zaretsky @playagainreads, shared a story about her cat Pearl and all the things that she likes to do. Here are some ideas for getting started:

Who is your character?

What are three things that your character likes to do?

Where does your character do those things?

What does your character look like?

How is your character feeling?